Following the outbreak of war in Ukraine in February 2022, and the EU decision to activate the Temporary Protection Directive, the Spanish Government started to design a more flexible and simple mechanism for providing protection to persons fleeing the country, without the necessity for them to lodge an asylum application.<sup>1</sup> UNHCR supported the authorities in the development of the emergency response to increase reception and support capacity, developing specific recommendations and providing guidance and expertise.<sup>2</sup> The Government also announced the regularisation of all undocumented Ukrainians living in Spain before the Russian invasion.<sup>3</sup>

In 2024, the Asylum Office granted temporary protection to 36,704 persons fleeing from Ukraine.<sup>4</sup> The permits granted until 31 December 2024 were 219,788. 59% of beneficiaries were women and 41% men.<sup>5</sup>

On February 2023, CEAR called the EU and its Member States to use the TP directive as a rule and not as an exception, and to use it also to protect people fleeing other conflicts, such as Syrians.<sup>6</sup> It also called to apply the TP directive to Syrian refugees affected by the earthquake that occurred during the same month.<sup>7</sup>

A report published in February 2024 by the Institute of Studies on Conflicts and Humanitarian Action informed about the excessive bureaucratisation and rigidity of some procedures foreseen for the application and granting of funds for the assistance to people fleeing from Ukraine. It especially recommended creating and consolidating specific funds to tackle sudden and evolving humanitarian responses at regional level.<sup>8</sup>

Since the outbreak of the war, Spain allocated more than €1,530 million to support persons fleeing from Ukraine.<sup>9</sup>

B. Qualification for temporary protection

On 9 March 2022, the Government adopted two orders, detailing the procedure to grant the temporary protection status to:<sup>10</sup>

- Ukrainian nationals who were living in Ukraine before 24 February 2022,
- third country nationals and stateless persons legally residing in Ukraine, whether on the basis of a permanent residence permit or not;
- Ukrainians staying (regularly or irregularly) in Spain before 24 February 2022,
- the family members (i.e. spouse or unmarried partner; their underage children or those of his/her partner, without any distinction if they were born inside or outside the marriage or if they were adopted; other close relatives who were living together as part of the familiar unity at the moment of the displacement, and who were depending totally or mainly from them) of all the above categories

According to the orders, the individual decision granting temporary protection is adopted by the OAR in 24 hours from the lodging of the application.

Temporary protection and the residence and work permits are granted for the duration of 1 year. They are automatically renewed for an additional year after the first year of validity.

In June 2022, UNHCR and NGOs expressed concerns for the challenges that third countries nationals formerly residing in Ukraine were facing in accessing and especially in obtaining TP in Spain, as the police did not allow them to register their application.<sup>11</sup> From the beginning of the displacement until October 2022, UNHCR and NGOs managing the Emergency and Referral Centres (CREADE, which were specifically created for the reception of persons fleeing Ukraine) informed around a hundred people from different countries (i.e. Nigeria, Morocco, Algeria, etc.) in a similar situation, including cases of mixed couples (i.e. Russian spouses).<sup>12</sup>

In October 2022, the General Commissariat on Foreigners and Borders issued a legal paper establishing the procedure and criteria for access to TP by third country nationals who fled Ukraine. It established that third country nationals coming from one of the following 17 countries (Afghanistan, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belorussia, Burkina Faso, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kirgizstan, Mali, Moldavia, Central African Republic, Russia, Syria, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan, Yemen) with permanent residence in Ukraine, were not obliged to prove the impossibility to return to their origin country in safe and durable conditions entitling them to access TP just by providing their passport and permanent residence permit. nationals coming from one of the mentioned 17 countries who held a temporary residence permit in Ukraine or those coming from other countries, also must prove the impossibility to return to their country of origin in safe and durable conditions.

In relation to the processing of TP applications made by third country nationals without automatic access to temporary protection (i.e. those nationalities not appearing in the mentioned legal paper), their declarations during the interview and, where appropriate, their relevant documentation, are sent by the police to the OAR for its assessment. In case of a negative decision, the police verbally communicates the decision to the applicants, without notifying them a written decision. This leads many applicants being unable to access an effective legal remedy.

In relation to third country nationals, as of 8 March 2024, temporary protection application forms must state that they do not authorise to work. In addition, a delay has been observed in the decision-making process of these applications by the OAR. In some cases, the process exceeds the 4 months validity of the application's receipt, without any resolution having been issued and without a new document having been issued to the applicants, what determines challenges for them in accessing their rights.<sup>13</sup>

Those who are found not to meet the conditions to apply for temporary protection are not issued return orders. Instead, the police informs them of the possibility to apply for international protection. Some positive decisions on international protection applications have been granted in the past years regarding cases of Ukrainian nationals. In case the temporary protection status is not recognised, a written denial decision is issued to the applicants (at the beginning applicants only received verbal denials, so it was impossible for denied applicants to challenge them).

C. Access to temporary protection and registration

1. Admission to territory

Persons fleeing from Ukraine do not face any significant challenge in accessing Spain. Biometric passports as well as other documents certifying their identity (i.e. birth certificate) are considered sufficient to access the territory.<sup>14</sup>

2. Freedom of movement

Individuals entitled to temporary protection do not face any challenge in moving across the Spanish territory, regardless of the documentation they held.

3. Registration under temporary protection

Regarding the registration of applications, the Government has foreseen the possibility of applying for temporary protection both directly at the CREADE and in designated police stations. If applicants arrive at airports, they enter the territory and apply for temporary protection on the territory. There has not been a need to design a TP procedure at the borders. The same applies in case of crossing land borders.

4. Legal assistance

For legal assistance in the context of temporary protection, the same rules valid for asylum seekers are in force (See AIDA Country Report on Spain - 2023 Update).

5. Information provision and access to NGOs

Different initiatives have been promoted since the beginning of the war, aiming at informing persons fleeing Ukraine on their rights and the access to services. The Spanish Bar Association committed to provide legal guidance to Ukrainian through the specialised Bar on migration and asylum of the different bar associations.<sup>15</sup> CEAR published guidelines on asylum for those fleeing the conflict in Ukraine, available both in Ukrainian and Spanish.<sup>16</sup> Similarly, the Bar Association of Madrid published a guide in Spanish, English and Ukrainian providing information to persons fleeing Ukraine.<sup>17</sup> The Minister of Interior published a document ( in different languages, including Ukrainian) providing information on temporary protection, especially on who is eligible, where to apply, the rights deriving from the protection granted, etc.<sup>18</sup> The Psychological Association of Madrid published some information videos for the psychological support to persons affected by the conflict in Ukraine addressed to professionals who assist and accompany persons fleeing from the conflict in Ukraine.<sup>19</sup> The Spanish Network of Legal Clinics drafted a guidance containing practical information on the access to temporary protection, as well as on access to health assistance, education and employment in different Autonomous Communities.<sup>20</sup> UNHCR and the Platform for Childhood published child-friendly information materials for children fleeing Ukraine.<sup>21</sup>

In July 2022, the company 'Alliance Vending' launched the campaign #CaféPorLaPaz (Coffee for Peace) together with UNHCR, Save the Children and CEAR, aimed at supporting persons fleeing from Ukraine by collecting donations.<sup>22</sup>

In December 2022, UNHCR, together with its goodwill ambassador Jesús Vázquez and the TV channels of Mediaset España, launched a campaign to raise awareness on the situation of persons fleeing Ukraine and the arrival of winter, and to ask for support from the Spanish population.<sup>23</sup>

In October 2024, the Minister of Inclusion, Social Security and Migration launched a phone service (number +34 913990009) to inform about international and temporary protection. The service is provided by eight persons, and the information is given in eight languages: Spanish, English, French, Ukrainian, Russian, Arabic, Farsi and Bambara.<sup>24</sup>

D. Guarantees for vulnerable groups

NGOs managing reception facilities coordinated with specialised police units to identify victims and testimonies of the war crimes committed by Russia, with the aim of collecting relevant information on the issue. At the end of May 2022, a specific procedure was put in place at the CREADE of Madrid, to detect such cases and refer them to the police, who carry out the interview with the victims and testimonies to gather and formalise their declarations.<sup>25</sup> The Spanish Bar Association also created a specific format that lawyers can use while collecting evidence.<sup>26</sup>

In order to prevent and identify cases of trafficking among the persons fleeing Ukraine, specific protocols and guidelines have been adopted within the CREADE. Besides, staff in these centres as well as in other reception facilities was trained on the matter by NGOs, upon request from the MISSIM. In addition, since the conflict outbreak, the Public Prosecutor office started to convene periodic meetings at the national level among different stakeholders (i.e. NGOs managing the CREADE, UNHCR, the MISSM, NGOs assisting trafficked persons, the National Police and the Civil Guard), with the aim of coordinating actions and activities, following-up on possible trafficking cases, fostering trainings, etc.

Similarly, the identification of children as minors, with referral to Autonomous Communities and of the adults accompanying children is also carried out in the centres.

In November 2022, the Parliament approved a legal amendment on aggravating circumstances to the crime of trafficking in human beings, increasing the punishment up to 12 years for those who traffic persons fleeing armed conflicts and humanitarian disasters.<sup>27</sup> The aggravating circumstance was initially proposed just to protect persons fleeing the war in Ukraine, but was then extended to all persons fleeing wars and humanitarian disasters.

In relation to children fleeing the conflict, there was a rapid issuance of recommendations directed at regional authorities, to avoid differences in treatment and definitions for their reception and protection. Recommendations regarding the protection of children and adolescents displaced by the conflict in Ukraine were issued by the Ministry of Social Rights and Agenda 2030 who is competent for the coordination of regional minors' protection systems. The priorities have been to ensure child friendly spaces, avoid the separation of families and of children who have relatives or foster families, and to follow up the location of minors to guarantee their return to their places of origin when possible.<sup>28</sup>

Recommendations were also drafted by the Minor Prosecutor's Office, aimed at unifying the criteria for action of the different prosecutors at regional level for the protection of unaccompanied and separated children. In the case of Ukrainian children, no systematic separation was carried out and great attention was paid to the way in which prosecutors were registering children as unaccompanied or separated. In the case of Ukrainian children, the national prosecutor asked to register them within the UAMS' police register and mark them as "at risk", so that minors protection services could make a follow up and provide them with the official "care" (guarda, which is different from guardianship although is a form of responsibility of the minor). It should be considered that, before the Ukrainian conflict, some Autonomous Communities in Spain still separated children travelling with adults who were not in possession of proof of guardianship or documentation, until DNA tests were carried out. This was the case in Melilla, as well as in the Canary Islands.<sup>29</sup>

The Platform for Childhood (Plataforma de Infancia) published information in the format of questions and answers, in which it provides useful information on different aspects, i.e., on foster care, on how to speak with children about the conflict, etc.<sup>30</sup> Similarly, UNICEF published a set of guidelines on how to support children from Ukraine.<sup>31</sup>

In May 2022, the organisation 'Aldeas Infantiles SOS' published guidelines on how to foster the integration of refugee children from Ukraine, providing orientation on the psychological effects of conflicts on children and on how to support children who fled the war.<sup>32</sup>

Save the Children has welcomed the extraordinary measures that were taken to ensure protection of children and families fleeing from Ukraine and asked for best practices to be extended to other migrant and refugee children, and to ensure lessons learnt from the management of the inflow of persons displaced from Ukraine can be taken and strengthened for the protection of all migrant and refugee children.<sup>33</sup>

In a report launched in January 2024, UNICEF assessed Spain's response to the reception of persons fleeing from Ukraine, including children, and concluded that, if there is political and social will, the management of humanitarian contingencies can be carried out with a human rights perspective and an efficient multidisciplinary and territorial coordination.<sup>34</sup>

Content of Temporary Protection

A. Status and residence

1. Residence permit

Indicators: Residence permit

According to the two orders adopted by the Spanish Government in March 2022,<sup>36</sup> temporary protection, as well as the residence and work permit granted, will be automatically renewed for 1 year after 1 year since the granting of the temporary protection. In practice, Spain issues residence and work permits directly for the duration of 2 years.<sup>37</sup>

An order issued in February 2025 extended the validity of residence permits granted to beneficiaries of temporary protection until 4 March 2026.<sup>38</sup>

2. Access to asylum and other legal statuses

Since the outbreak of the conflict, the OAR temporarily halted the decisions on asylum applications already lodged by Ukrainian applicants which are prospected to have a negative outcome.<sup>39</sup> It is important to note that, from 2012 to 2021, Spain received around 16,000 asylum applications from Ukrainian nationals, and denied at least 14,600 of them; only 9% of the applicants received any form of international protection according to such figures.<sup>40</sup> On 24 March, the National Court of Madrid granted subsidiary protection to a Ukrainian family, whose application had previously been rejected.<sup>41</sup>

In 2023, 86 Ukrainians (47 men and 39 women) applied for international protection. During the same year, just 1 Ukrainian woman was granted the refugee status, while 174 Ukrainians (74 men and 100 women) were granted subsidiary protection. No Ukrainian national was granted a stay or residence permit based on humanitarian reasons.<sup>42</sup>

Similarly, the High Court (Audiencia Nacional) started to grant subsidiary protection to all the Ukrainians who had applied before the outbreak of the war and whose asylum application was denied.<sup>43</sup>

Beneficiaries of temporary protection cannot access other residence permits (i.e. for 'arraigo', for exceptional circumstances) beyond asylum. As far as the author is aware, applications for other residence permits have been denied so far. In case former beneficiaries found themselves in an irregular situation in the future, they would be able to access to the permits for 'arraigo' when the specific requirements are met.<sup>44</sup>

In December 2022, the Supreme Court (Tribunal Supremo) granted protection to a Ukrainian family with an expulsion order, and established the criteria that, due to the situation in Ukraine, all Ukrainians living in Spain can automatically invoke protection based on the principle of non-refoulement without the necessity to lodge an application for temporary protection.<sup>45</sup> The same criteria continued to be applied by the Supreme Court in different decisions taken during 2023.<sup>46</sup>

No significant issues were registered regarding access to asylum of temporary protection beneficiaries, who can present an asylum application while maintaining their TP status.

In April 2023 the Supreme Court (Tribunal Supremo) issued a decision establishing that temporary protection shall only be granted to eligible individuals who do not already benefit from a different form of international protection.<sup>47</sup>

Currently, Ukrainians with residence permits not connected to TP or asylum issued by another EU country are not granted access to TP in Spain, unless they have a final decision withdrawing such the residence permit, considering that the mere request to renounce to that residence is not valid for accessing TP in Spain. Similarly, when applicants hold an expired residence permit (including a permit issued in Spain), and independently of the ground on which it has been granted (i.e. study, temporary, long-term, etc.), they are not granted access to TP, as they cannot confirm that they no longer have the right to residence. In this case, the authorities argue that the permit can be renewed, without taking into account the legal requirements foreseen for renewal in each case. In addition, authorities consider that these people are not displaced, as they come from a safe third country, despite the fact that their residence permit in that country is no longer valid. In addition, there are sometimes difficulties in differentiating between residence for TP and the general regime in some countries, due to the similarity of the card formats used. In the case of Poland, a country in which many Ukrainians have a residence permit under a legal regime different for IP and TP, in order to clarify their situation for accessing TP in Spain, steps have been taken with the Polish Embassy in Madrid to see if it is possible to issue a document certifying that the persons no longer have a residence permit in Poland. The Polish authorities have issued a certificate stating that 'The Consular Section of the Embassy of the Republic of Poland to the Kingdom of Spain informs that it does not have access to the database of resident cards issued by the competent authorities in Poland'. In these cases, there is no uniform criterion for accepting this document as proof that the person does not have a valid residence permit in Poland.<sup>48</sup>

In relation to Ukrainian nationals who left their country before the start of the conflict (24 February 2022), there is no uniform approach to the granting of TP in Spain. In these cases, TP is not granted directly, but it has been observed that the vulnerability of the applicants and, in certain cases, the employment circumstances that led to their departure from the country prior to the start of the conflict are being taken into account in a positive decision later issued on their possibility of benefitting from temporary protection.<sup>49</sup>

B. Family reunification

Upon request, temporary protection will be granted also to family members as long as the family relation was already existing in the country of origin. Family members are considered as follows: spouse or unmarried partner; unmarried minor children or those of the partner, whether born inside or outside of a marriage or adopted; other close relatives who lived together as part of the family unit at the beginning of the armed conflict, depending totally or mainly on them.<sup>50</sup> As far as Accem is aware, no cases of family reunification have been registered so far.<sup>51</sup> All Ukrainians that are fleeing the country can reach easily Spain and apply for TP.

C. Movement and mobility

Beneficiaries of TP have the right of free movement and residence in Spain, and they are entitled to receive travel documents if they are not in possession of a valid passport or a travel document and justify their need to travel outside Spain.<sup>52</sup> As far as known by the author, in practice there are no beneficiaries of TP who applied for a travel document so far, also because Ukrainian embassy/consulates are renewing passports when needed.

No problems were registered regarding temporary protection beneficiaries who temporarily returned to Ukraine to then re-enter Spain. Neither the law nor national policy foresee a period for authorized absence, without suspensive effect on the TP-related status and rights.<sup>53</sup>

Following the outbreak of the war, the Spanish Government started to elaborate a plan to provide for and speed up the reception of persons fleeing from Ukraine,<sup>55</sup> and announced the creation of around 6,000 new reception places in collaboration with Autonomous Communities and Municipalities.<sup>56</sup>

To address reception needs, at the beginning of March 2022 the Minister of Inclusion, Social Security and Migration adopted a Reception Plan,<sup>57</sup> and provided for the creation of four Emergency and Referral Centres (CREADE), managed by NGOs. One is located in Madrid, offers 400 places and is managed by the NGO Accem.<sup>58</sup> Other two facilities located in Barcelona and Alicante are managed by the Spanish Red Cross, while the fourth is managed by the NGO CEAR in Málaga.<sup>59</sup> Such centres provide for the emergency and temporary reception of those persons who do not have sufficient resources. In principle, persons are accommodated in such centres for few days, and then are referred to the reception facilities within the asylum reception system (mainly managed by NGOs) across the Spanish territory.

Such centres give access to different rights and services, such as: accommodation and maintenance; financial support; schooling and language of Spanish; psychosocial support; job assistance which includes vocational trainings, job guidance, homologation of educational degrees; health assistance; legal support; validation of the driving licence for 1 year; free telephone coverage (roaming).<sup>60</sup>

Since the outbreak of the war until the end of February 2025, Spain has granted temporary protection to 236,570 persons fleeing from Ukraine.<sup>61</sup>

UNHCR maintained its presence in the four centres for processing temporary protection (CREADE) until mid-2023, where it provided support to the authorities and information and guidance on international and temporary protection to beneficiaries, identification and referral of persons with specific needs, and protection training for Government and NGO staff working in the centres, in coordination with the EUAA.<sup>62</sup>

In order to support translation and interpretation at the four CREADE, UNHCR implemented a project for the provision of four interpreters speaking Ukrainian, Russian and English provided by the organisation Accem with whom UNHCR implemented an agreement to provide interpretation services.<sup>63</sup>

Due to certain conflictual situations which have occurred between Ukrainian nationals and Russian nationals with residence in Ukraine while accommodated together, preventive measures are adopted according to the circumstances, and the coexistence among the two groups is avoided.

Third country nationals are accommodated in such facilities as long as their TP application is under examination and in case of positive decision. If their TP applications is denied, they have to leave the CREADE.

Since September 2022, it has been established that CREADE can accommodate also asylum seekers, also in line with the call made by different stakeholders.<sup>64</sup>

Only from June 2023, however, the Minister of Inclusion, Social Security and Migration announced that CREADE started to accommodate also asylum seekers coming from other countries.<sup>65</sup>

Following the outbreak of the war, the asylum reception system's capacity was increased by the MISSM, and beneficiaries of TP can be also accommodated in those facilities across all the Spanish territory. Beneficiaries of TP can be referred from the CREADE to the facilities within the asylum reception system i.e. in case of shortage of places in the CREADE, to respond to concrete vulnerabilities thanks to specialised facilities and services, if the beneficiaries have friend or familiar networks in other provinces, etc.

It is worth noting that beneficiaries of TP are entitled to the same rights and the same reception conditions as asylum seekers. In April 2022, the Minister of Inclusion, Social Security and Migration adopted an instruction on the management of the reception system of international protection and temporary protection, establishing exceptional measures for the assistance to persons displaced from Ukraine.<sup>66</sup>

In February 2023, media reported that the Minister of Inclusion, Social Security and Migration had hidden a suicide committed while in reception by a Moroccan man who was legally residing in Ukraine and was waiting for the decision on their TP application.<sup>67</sup>

A foster care program has also been developed by the Minister of Inclusion, Social Security and Migration, together with the Foundation 'La Caixa', in collaboration with NGOs within the asylum system, the network of foster care families, and the Municipal Social Services.<sup>68</sup> The foster care has a minimum duration of 6 months and can be extended up to 12 months prior consent.

In addition, in July 2022 the Council of Ministers adopted a Royal Decree establishing the direct granting of funding to 20 NGOs for the reception of and assistance to asylum seekers and applicants of temporary protection, with a budget of almost 392 million Euros.<sup>69</sup>

In two years since the outbreak of the war, Spain has allocated more than 1,400 million Euros to assist and support persons fleeing from Ukraine.<sup>70</sup>

In May 2023 the Government of the Balearic Islands approved a call of EUR 237,000 Euros to fund organisations for the reception of beneficiaries of international protection coming from Ukraine.<sup>71</sup>

The challenges that beneficiaries of temporary protection face in Spain - similar to those faced by all asylum seekers and beneficiaries of international protection - have been highlighted by civil society, especially in relation to the access to reception conditions due to the lack of available places, and consequent situations of asylum seekers and temporary protection holders living on the streets.<sup>72</sup>

In February 2023, the organisation CEAR denounced the serious problems that Ukrainian refugees are facing in finding a house to rent in Spain.<sup>73</sup>

At the beginning of 2024 the Minister of Interior and the MISSM agreed on using the CREADE in Madrid to accommodate vulnerable asylum applicants who arrived in the Canary Islands, with the aim of speeding up the assessment of their asylum claim.<sup>74</sup>

In June 2024, the Minister of Inclusion, Social Security and Migration announced that the model created with the CREADE for the lodging and resolution of applications made by vulnerable asylum seekers, together with their reception at the same facility, will be extended to other reception facilities.<sup>75</sup> However, there have been no other similar examples so far.

E. Employment and education

1. Access to the labour market

Beneficiaries of TP are entitled to work in Spain under the same conditions and rights as Spanish workers. They are also entitled to access vocational trainings.<sup>76</sup>

According to available data, 28,197 beneficiaries of temporary protection were working as of 31 December 2024, mainly in the following labour sectors: hospitality (4,680 persons), construction (4,605 persons), commercial sector (3,088 persons), and information and communication (2,862). The majority of these workers were employed under full-time and indefinite contract.<sup>77</sup>

The organisation Accem started a collaboration with the Adecco Foundation through a project named 'Sponsorship of Ukrainian Families' (Apadrinamiento Familias Ucránianas), aimed at developing complementary actions to Accem's employment plan through labour intermediation, to foster an effective attention to Ukrainian refugees.<sup>78</sup>

2. Access to education

The Minister of Education created a dedicated webpage containing information on the access to education for displaced Ukrainians, available also in Ukrainian.<sup>79</sup>

In addition, in May 2022 the Ministry of Education started to hire 200 Ukrainian Language Assistants, with the aim of supporting regional authorities in fostering the inclusion of Ukrainian children in schools.<sup>80</sup>

An unprecedented Contingency Plan to guarantee access to schooling of displaced Ukrainian students was adopted in 2022 by Ministry of Education, with the aim of coordinating the measures at the regional level to foster children education inclusion and uniform criteria across all the Spanish territory, and to facilitate access to available European funding.<sup>81</sup> This unique plan foresees a set of measures, such as, e.g., the immediate enrolment of students in compulsory stages in educational centres by levels, cycles or educational stages; the increase in the number of language-immersion classes per small group (10 students) provided for those who do not know the language; the provision of extraordinary quotas for the necessary teaching staff, including support and reception staff (guidance, therapeutic pedagogy, socio-community intervention, etc.); the provision of subsidies for humanitarian reasons to NGOs and other non-profit entities with the capacity to hire Ukrainian or Ukrainian-speaking personnel, for the attention, especially linguistic and socio-affective, of school minors; the extraordinary provision of calls for financial support to guarantee canteen services, transport, books and complementary activities, to school students from the conflict in Ukraine; the design of options to facilitate the continuity of the studies they are pursuing in Ukraine or the start of new ones, at a post-compulsory level.

In addition, the Asylum Language Learning Service signed an agreement with the Cervantes Institute and the Spanish Red Cross to support the process of socio-cultural integration of people arriving from Ukraine through free Spanish language courses for foreigners.

In April 2023 it was announced that the Plan 'Andalucía with Ukraine', adopted by the Autonomous Community of Andalucía following the outbreak of the war to support persons fleeing the country, had allowed access to schooling to more than 3,100 Ukrainian children.<sup>82</sup>

A report published by the MISSM indicates that, since the outbreak of the war until 31 December 2024, 39,741 children fleeing from Ukraine accessed schooling. Among them, around 5,500 children are enrolled in early education, 15,500 in primary education, 9,500 in secondary education, and more than 8,000 in vocational training courses and in Spanish classes. Regarding the university context, 1,800 students are enrolled in degrees, master and PhD courses.<sup>83</sup>

F. Social welfare

In August 2022, the Government adopted a Royal Decree providing for the transfer of EUR 80 million to the Autonomous Communities, with the aim of providing a monthly financial support of EUR 400 during a period of 6 months to beneficiaries of temporary protection.<sup>84</sup> The measure aimed at supporting beneficiaries who do not have sufficient resources, and are not receiving assistance nor being accommodated within the international protection reception system.

In March 2023, the Office for Equal Opportunities and Inclusion Policies of the Autonomous Community of Valencia allocated EUR 12.73 million for granting direct support to refugees from Ukraine who are residing in the Comunitat Valenciana and do not have sufficient resources.<sup>85</sup>

Beside the specific Royal Decree mentioned, beneficiaries of temporary protection can access social welfare based on the same criteria and conditions of applicants and beneficiaries of international protection.

G. Health care

Persons fleeing from Ukraine have access to the health national system under the same conditions as the rest of the population. In March 2022 the Minister of Health published guidelines on how to act with refugees from Ukraine, i.e. in relation to COVID-19, as well as to other diseases to which Ukrainians may be vulnerable (i.e. poliomyelitis, measles).<sup>86</sup>

In May 2023 it was announced that the Plan 'Andalucía with Ukraine', adopted by the Autonomous Community of Andalucía following the outbreak of the war to support persons fleeing the country, had provided health assistance to almost 108,000 Ukrainians.<sup>87</sup> The Plan foresees specific measures for children and youth, women, as well as measures related to access to health, access to social services, free access to public transports, etc.
